Through our volunteers, FCIA has been actively involved in developing much needed codes, standards, educational materials/seminars and news articles to promote the specialty contractor philosophy to the construction industry all over the world. We are truly an international organization!

As an association, we have made great contributions to the industry. Just to name a few areas of interest: the FCIA Manual of Practice, highly regarded as the industry guide; the Life Safety Digest our quarterly compartmentation publication which is circulated to 11,000 industry professionals; the contractor standards, which includes the FM 'Approval Standard for Approval of Firestop Contractors Class Number 4991' and the Underwriters Laboratories' 'UL Qualified Firestop Contractor Program' now required in national and international recognized construction specifications; FCIA voting member participation on the UL Standards Technical Panel for Firestop testing (UL 1479 and UL 2079); ASTM inspection standards ASTM E2174 and ASTM E2393, code required in 2012 IBC; The IAS AC 291 Accreditation Program for Firestop Inspectors and the Firestop/Containment Worker Apprenticeship Standard.

Please consider getting actively involved in FCIA by volunteering time to one of the many committees available... Accreditation, Advisory, Apprenticeship, Code, Education, Legislative, Life Safety Digest, Marketing, Membership, Program, Standards and Technical. Everyone is invited to be a part of Wednesday afternoon's Committee Sessions. Learn more from the Committee Chairs listed in this agenda.

I want to thank each of our members; through your financial support and volunteerism, you make FCIA what it is today. If you are not already actively involved, I urge you to get involved and make a difference in the future development of our industry, and encourage others to become FCIA members. Our association needs your support to continue to grow!
